

TWO PERSONS ROBBED BY A "BLACK NEGRO"

A Dusky Highwayman Picks Three Victims, One of Whom Escapes With Bad Fright.

Three hold-ups within two hours was the record of last night. All occurred within a short radius, and the assailant in each case was "a black negro, about 5 feet 8 inches in height."

It was about 9 o'clock when Horace Mandue, a negro, living at 498 Washington Street northwest, rushed excitedly into Police Headquarters with word that, while passing through Judiciary Square, near the Pension Office, he had been knocked down from behind, and a handbag he was carrying taken from him. This bag contained $28.85, and some papers, the property of St. Vincent Club, No. 2, Knights of Jerusalem, of which he is an officer.

The next two reports came in over the telephone within five minutes of each other, though the robberies were an hour apart. Mrs. A. J. Hughes, of 601 Stanton Place northeast, was waiting for a car at Third and H Streets northwest, a trifle over a block from where the first robbery occurred, when a negro snatched from her hand a bag containing a $12 pair of spectacles, $3 in money, and a deed to a piece of property.

The last victim was Mrs. C. H. Pickens, of 219 Kentucky Avenue southeast, who, on Kentucky Avenue, between East Capitol and H Streets southeast, was assaulted and thrown down by a negro answering the same description. She was not injured, but badly frightened. Not securing any booty the man ran away.

ALEXANDRIA NEWS NOTES

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Jan. 22.—Samuel N. Garwood, one of the oldest citizens of Alexandria, died this morning at his home in King Street, near Henry Street. Mr. Garwood was born in New Jersey eighty-three years ago, but came to Alexandria in the fifties and engaged in business. Mr. Garwood was a Union man during the civil war and for a while sheriff of Alexandria city and county. He has been actively engaged in Alexandria since that time and for the last ten years has been storekeeper at the Mahoney Distillery, near this city. His wife has been dead for many years. His daughter is living in Washington and in Richmond, and a single daughter resides in Alexandria at the home where he died.

POTOMAC STONE COMPANY.

The annual meeting of the Potomac Stone Company was held at the office of Gardiner L. Boothe, this city, yesterday afternoon, and the following officers were elected: Ward Thoron, of Washington, president; Charles G. Smith, of Clarke county, Va., vice president; J. N. C. Bonaparte, of Washington, treasurer; Charles G. Smith, Jr., of Washington, secretary; Charles J. Bell, of Washington, and R. A. Phillips, of Alexandria, directors.

HARRIS FOUND GUILTY.

The trial of Daniel G. Harris, indicted for shooting Bernard Robinson at the corner of Wolfe and Columbus Streets early in this month, took place in the corporation court yesterday. Commonwealth's Attorney S. G. Brent appeared for the prosecution and Walter U. Varney and J. Randall Catton for the prisoner. Mrs. Delaney and Harris were the only persons who gave material evidence. Commonwealth's Attorney Brent said that he had had the police arrest Robinson, and told them to hold him. Robinson, he said, was taken into custody, but was not held and the police were now unable to find him. In regard to Mr. Brent's statement the mayor, when seen this morning, said that he and not the police was responsible for the release of Robinson, as Dr. Delaney had telephoned to headquarters that the stationhouse was no place for a wounded man. The jury returned a verdict of unlawful shooting and fixed Harris' punishment at confinement in jail for six months and a fine of $5.

DIRECTORS CHOSEN.

The meeting of the stockholders of the Columbia National Sand Dredging Company, was held in the office of G. L. Boothe yesterday, and the following directors, all of Washington, were elected: Joseph K. McCammon, Charles J. Bell, Philip Mauro, Henry Willis, Charles B. Pearson, Zenas C. Robbins, and James H. Hayden.

It is expected that Governor Warfield, of Maryland, will visit this city on the 22d of February. A committee called on the governor at Annapolis this week and extended him an invitation.

The sewer at the corner of Washington and Wilkes Streets caved in this morning.

Scaled by Steam.

While testing the steam pipes at Heurich's brewery yesterday, Rudolph Simms, forty years of age, of 483 L Street southwest, was scalded about the face and hands by a cloud of steam which spurted from a valve before he could close it. He went to the Emergency Hospital for treatment.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS DISCUSS CIVIL WAR

Major Hunter Tells of So-Called Virginia Regiment Captured While Fighting in Northern Ranks.

Within the brief period of four hours the civil war was fought over again at the social meeting of the Confederate Veterans' Association, held in the hall 431 Eleventh Street northwest last evening. The overwhelming odds against which the boys in gray struggled were commemorated upon.

The Hon. Hilary A. Herbert, who spoke on "Reminiscences of the War," called attention to the fact that "there were 75,000 Confederates against 2,800,000 Federal soldiers near the end of the war."

Dr. McKim said that he had read a statement to the effect that there were 50,000 Southern men in the Federal army. Major Hunter remarked that whole regiments in the Northern forces were named arbitrarily for the Southern States.

"Why," he continued, "we on one occasion captured a so-called Virginia regiment in which we found a Dutchman who had not been in America more than three weeks."

Just before the close of the meeting it was announced that the local Confederate veterans had been given a silk banner by the New Orleans association.

RELIGIOUS EMOTION OVERCOME THE GIRL

Martha Brooks in Hospital as Result of Revival Meeting.

Her religious zeal is said to have landed Martha Brooks in the Emergency Hospital last night. According to the diagnosis of Dr. White, of the hospital, this is literally true. The diagnosis technically is "emotional hysterics, with convulsions."

Martha is a negro girl and employed as a domestic. Last night she attended a religious meeting at the Baptist Church near Third and H Streets northwest. Interest waxed strong and the meeting lasted far into the night. For a while she was carried away by her emotions.
